Since 90 years the origin of Unisto's competence lies in the seal

Providing the highest security for your goods

Our roots go back to 1926, when Stoffel & Son was founded in Switzerland in a small village called Horn along the shore of Lake of Constance.

For the last nine decades we have been engaged in meeting customer demands in terms of security and identification.

We have set new standards with original ideas, creative answers and high quality products which bear witness to the commitment and know-how of our people. People have always been the driving force of Unisto's history.

As exporting was always an important pillar of the business they founded a few companies in Europe in the 50s. As from 1968 Unisto (United Stoffel) served as a brand all activities of the group companies.

In the 80s Mario Stoffel and its team take their first steps in Asia which is an important part of today's sealing business.

Even though Mario Stoffel is still maintaining his active interest in the business Peter Stoffel is the chairman of the Management Team following the spirit of his ancestors since 2010.
